Elegant and eminently adaptable Aagaard Hanley's hand crafted wall lights are ideal for the modern home yet perfectly suited to hotels and commercial buildings.

The standard range, produced in a wide variety of sizes and finished in white, is sufficiently versatile to fulfill all these applications, but the company's craftsmen are ever ready to design and customise lights for the client who requires something slightly different. Look at the increasingly popular Face and Mouth versions.

Models are available in GLS and low energy electrical fittings.
